One sunny Friday afternoon, Tony and Kathryn were using their binoculars to watch a bluebird smoothly land in its nest. Suddenly a Frisbee came crashing into the tree near the nest. The bird gave out a loud chirpy-squawk in surprise. Tony and Kathryn also gave out a loud chirpy-squawk in surprise. The three little boys playing in the park had no idea where their Frisbee was, until they saw it shake back and forth in the tree. The boys saw Tony and asked if he could help them. He kindly said, "No, you almost hit the bird we were watching. You can go ask your parents for help." The boys ran away crying, "Mommy, that man is mean."

Susan was carefully putting mascara on in the car as her mother drove her to Bend to do some shopping. Suddenly, Susan's mother put on the breaks and said, "No way, I can't I believe I did it again!" Susan asked, "What, what, what!?? You just made me poke my eye!" Susan mother said that she forgot her driver's license and debit card at home on the kitchen counter. Susan said in a snide voice, "Well at least you didn't get pulled over by a cop." Susan's mother replied, "Well I'm glad I had time to take you to Bend. I had other things planned for today, but then thought, you and I needed to get away for the day." Susan smiled, "Thanks mom."
